

Think on These Things

John Ecob

On whatsoever things are true,
Our hearts should always feed;
Things honest, lovely, just and pure,
Are what our thoughts now need,
With things that are of good report,
Of virtue and of praise,
And moderation should be sought
Through all our earthly days.

Then let us now give thanks to Him
And in our hearts rejoice,
And let not sin our vision dim;
His fellowship our choice.
Then peace that can all things surpass
Will keep our heart and mind,
Until no more through darkened glass
Eternal joy we find.
